ID checks and your privacy (UK GDPR). Every new client must provide proof of identity (valid photo ID: passport, photo driving licence or other government-issued photo ID) and proof of address (for example a utility bill, council tax bill or bank statement dated within the last 3 months). After payment, we have a 15-minute video intro call before your first session; it is not recorded. I check your documents only to keep both of us safe. You can show them on the video call, or send copies through [SECURE METHOD, e.g. password-protected email attachment or encrypted upload]. Any copies are stored password-protected and encrypted, seen only by me, and never shared, except with the police if my safety is at risk or the law requires it. Once checked, I keep only a short note (your name, document types, the date checked and that the address matched) and securely delete any copies within [7] days of your first session. The lawful basis is legitimate interests (safety). If your ID or address cannot be verified, or either of us decides not to go ahead after the video call, you get a full refund.

Safety measures are in place to ensure the practitioner's safety while delivering every session.
